"In Q1 we delivered on our key financial guidance while extending our edge AI platform leadership. Automotive revenue achieved a new all-time record due to rapid penetration of AI into commercial vehicles. Demand signals for edge AI remain very strong, and I am optimistic in our ability to serve the market, in particular as AI workloads become more complex. We have a number of new products targeting more advanced AI workloads, all of which command average selling prices ("ASP") well in-excess of our current ASP," said Fermi Wang, President & CEO.

"Our edge SoCs integrate all the AI accelerated computing functions (perception, fusion, AI accelerator, CPU and other system functions) together with our algorithms and software into a single SoC," Dr. Wang added. "Customers are increasingly recognizing our unique capabilities and are requesting broader and deeper relationships, facilitating our development of new markets like edge infrastructure and robotics, while an indirect sales ecosystem can bring us more scale."

Stock Repurchase

In the first quarter of fiscal year 2027, the company repurchased a total of 47,798 shares for total consideration of approximately $2.4 million. During the second fiscal quarter, Ambarella's Board of Directors authorized a new $50.0 million repurchase program through June 30, 2027, that will commence when the existing program expires on June 30, 2026. The repurchase program does not obligate the company to acquire any particular amount of ordinary shares, and it may be suspended at any time at the company's discretion.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The company has provided in this release non-GAAP financial information, including non-GAAP gross margin, net income (loss), and earnings (losses) per share, as a supplement to the condensed consolidated financial statements, which are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). Management uses these non-GAAP financial measures internally in analyzing the company's financial results to assess operational performance and liquidity. The company believes that both management and investors benefit from referring to these non-GAAP financial measures in assessing its performance and when planning, forecasting and analyzing future periods. Further, the company believes these non-GAAP financial measures are useful to investors because they allow for greater transparency with respect to key financial metrics that the company uses in making operating decisions and because the company believes that investors and analysts use them to help assess the health of its business and for comparison to other companies. Non-GAAP results are presented for supplemental informational purposes only for understanding the company's operating results. The non-GAAP information should not be considered a substitute for financial information presented in accordance with GAAP, and may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies.

With respect to its financial results for the first quarter of fiscal year 2027, the company has provided below reconciliations of its non-GAAP financial measures to its most directly comparable GAAP financial measures. With respect to the company's expectations for the second quarter of fiscal year 2027, a reconciliation of non-GAAP gross margin and non-GAAP operating expenses guidance to the closest corresponding GAAP measure is not available without unreasonable efforts on a forward-looking basis due to the high variability and low visibility with respect to the charges excluded from these non-GAAP measures. We expect the variability of the above charges to have a significant, and potentially unpredictable, impact on our future GAAP financial results.
